A minimum spanning tree (MST) refers to a chosen set of edges extracted from a connected, undirected graph. This set links all the vertices without creating loops while ensuring the collective weight of the edges is minimised.

Example: